

About us

Hello! My name is Juanito, and I have been in the business of things for a long time.

The company started in 1580, with my great-great-great grandfather Juanito Johnson Jameson Joji. He started creating things just for the fun of it, and he saw that people liked them. So he started selling, as a side hustle, until one day he decided to go all in on it.

His love of things has passed down generation after generation of Juanitos. And here I am, selling things.

I hope you like them.
